Chapter 1 by CaiteCat

A 10 year old girl named Mavis was walking around, school was over and she didn't know what to do. Mavis thought about it for a few minutes and then told herself she should go to the library. When she got to the library she saw a book called The Magic of never ending books. She took it off of the shelf and took it home. She read the book all night but she never finished. The book only looked about 100 pages long. Mavis is the fastest reader in her class so she could finish a 100 page book in five minutes without a problem. This was the longest Mavis had ever spent reading one book. Mavis soon fell asleep.

When Mavis woke up she got the book. Then she put it in her book bag and brought it to school with her. After school Mavis went to the library. She asked "Is there anyone I can talk to about this book?" The Librarian replied "I'm sorry sweetie nobody is allowed to talk about that book here. Also how did you find it?" "It was on the fiction shelf." Mavis replied. "Can I see it sweetie?" whispered the library?" Mavis handed her the book and the librarian put it in the book shredder. Mavis left the library and ran to her house. She told her mom everything that happened.

When Mavis got done talking to her mom she went to her room. She jumped on her bed for a few seconds. She got down to find a book to read. There was the book that was shredded...
